Repel Viet Attacks; U.S. Planes Raid Haiphong Area

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese paratroopers reported killing 130 North Vietnamese in a new battle near Dak To Wednesday while American forces flown in as bait repelled an attack by Viet Cong and Communist regulars today near the U.S. Special Forces camp at Bo Bop. American firepower stopped the Red assault in a cemetery 50 yards from the U.S. lines.

In the air war, monsoon rains restricted nearly all U.S. air strikes over North Vietnam Wednesday to the southern half of the country from south of Hanoi to the 17th parallel.

However, Navy pilots, returned to the Haiphong area for the second day in succession, bombing fuel storage dumps 7 and 11 miles west-northwest of the port city. Smoke and dust prevented an immediate assessment of damage, the Navy said. The Navy also reported that one of its river patrol boats intercepted a large, motorized sampan 84 miles south-southwest of Saigon Tuesday and after an exchange of fire seized 150 pounds of medicines, 316 rounds of small arms ammunition and other equipment.

The savage fighting around Dak To last week was reflected in the weekly casualty report issued today. U.S. headquarters said 212 Americans and 1,826 of the enemy were killed in action last week, 1,242 Americans were wounded and 66 Americans were missing, compared with casualties the week before of 225 Americans and 1,561 enemy killed, 1,256 Americans wounded and 22 Americans missing.

South Vietnamese casualties for the week were 261 killed, 66 wounded and 25 missing. Like those for the Americans, they were slightly less the week before.

U.S. headquarters, in another of its periodic summaries of American aircraft losses, said a total of 758 U.S. combat planes have been lost over North Vietnam. This is one more than previously announced, and as usual the command gave no details of the additional loss.

Seek Identity Of 2 Youths Found S'ain

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Telephones at the Flagler County sheriff's office rang steadily through the night as anxious mothers with missing sons and others knowing of missing persons called to see if two boys found shot to death Wednesday could be their relatives.

"The telephone rang steadily but most of the calls were just straws in the wind," said Sheriff P. A. Edmundson.

"I've got a pretty good lead out of Detroit," he said, but declined to elaborate.

The bodies were found in a thicket off U.S. Highway 1.

The New Smyrna Beach Police Department looked at mug shots of the two youths, both of whom were shot in the head, on the chance they might be the same two who spent Monday night in the New Smyrna jail on a vagrancy charge.

"The description seems to match," said Edmundson.

Fingerprints were sent to Tallahassee for a check but Edmundson said that "was just a long shot in the dark. These boys would have been pretty young to be fingerprinted."

Other effects found on and near the boys—a 1967 graduation ring from "Eastern High School," a newspaper ad from a Miami paper and a blanket stamped N.A.D. and B.O.Q. were the only clues.

"I've come to find out this country is full of Eastern high schools," said Edmundson. "There are 12 or 15 states that have high schools by that name."

One of the young men was about 5 feet 10 with reddish blond hair and gray-blue eyes. He was tanned, even on the feet, as though he had spent a lot of time on the beach. The other, in contrast, was pale with blue eyes and reddish-brown hair. He was about 5 feet 9.

Ormond Beach is north of Daytona Beach on Florida's Atlantic coast.

Nixon To Delay Decision on '68 Plans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The campaign for the Republican presidential nomination makes such heavy demands, says Richard M. Nixon, that it should be entered only at the last possible moment.

When might that moment be, the former vice president was asked at a news conference Wednesday?

The reply: If, toward the end of January, "public acceptance is somewhere near where it is now, I expect to be a candidate."

Meanwhile a candidacy loomed for a senator who says he wants to bring the nation's Vietnam policy into open debate inside President Johnson's own party.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., intends to challenge President Johnson in at least four presidential preference primaries next year. He indicated in advance of his formal announcement that he will enter primaries in Wisconsin Apr. 2, Nebraska May 14, Oregon May 28 and California June 4.

McCarthy, who acknowledges it would be almost impossible to take the nomination away from Johnson, maintains Vietnam policy must be debated within the Democratic party. His supporters say any sizable vote for him would indicate a degree of voter disenchantment with Johnson and his policies.

A different sort of political reaction came from New Jersey Wednesday as the state's 21 Democratic county organizations unanimously endorsed President Johnson for re-election.

The endorsement was "spontaneous," said Democratic State Chairman Robert J. Burkhardt, because "it was felt Johnson's leadership was such it should be reinforced."

At his news conference Nixon also expressed opinions on Vietnam. He said Republicans should adopt a platform calling for an end to the war in a manner which would insure permanent peace. He called also for a policy of preventive diplomacy to assure that the United States does not become embroiled in another Vietnam in Africa, Latin America or elsewhere in South East Asia.

Then he backed a statement by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower approving of a policy of hot pursuit of enemy forces in South Vietnam, even if the trail should lead into Laos, Cambodia or Red China.

The United States, Nixon declared, can prevent a widening of the Vietnam war by "making it clear that intervention by fighting men or planes will bring reaction." But he said he understood no North Vietnamese planes are now based at

McNamara's Resignation Still Buried in Confusion

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says major U.S. defense policies are clearly defined for the man who will succeed Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, quitting the Pentagon for the World Bank's presidency.

But a triple play of announcements by the World Bank, White House and McNamara Wednesday night left in a fog some of the more intriguing aspects of the defense chief's switch in assignments. The statements reported:

—McNamara will take over the presidency of the 197-nation World Bank after he finishes his work on the fiscal 1969 defense budget next year, probably sometime in February or shortly after.

—President Johnson maintained "the course of our participation in the war in Vietnam is firmly set, major defense policies are clearly defined" and McNamara's successor—not yet named—can carry on in McNamara's tracks "without loss of momentum or effectiveness."

—Outgoing President George D. Woods of the World Bank sounded out McNamara last April 18. McNamara indicated his interest in the post. He discussed it with Johnson, offering to stay at the Pentagon "as long as he felt it necessary."

—About mid-October, Johnson asked McNamara if he still was interested. Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler had prodded Johnson for the U.S. nomination for the World Bank presidency.

—McNamara told Johnson he was still interested. The nomination went forward to the bank. Its 20 executive directors voted unanimously Wednesday night to offer the $40,000-a-year job to McNamara, after the French representative reportedly delayed to check with Paris. A delegation headed by Woods called on McNamara at the Pentagon.

Demo Chief Raps Rhodes Privy Plans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state Democratic Party rapped the Rhodes administration Wednesday for "gutter type name-calling to discredit honest critics" of plans to build road-side restrooms at a cost of $2.75 million.

The criticism came in a statement issued by Eugene P. O'Grady, executive director of the Democratic Party. O'Grady noted that House Minority Whip John C. McDermott, a Newark Democrat, recently wrote Highway Director P. E. Masheter for an explanation of the highway department's plan to build the restrooms, costing $55,000 each.

Instead of an answer to McDermott, O'Grady said "the highway department totally ignored this question in issuing a scurrilous press release which labeled this conscientious young lawmaker a 'privy politician' in five separate places and grossly misrepresented McDermott's record on education support."

"Rep. McDermott is not alone in calling for an explanation of such reckless spending — thousands of other Ohioans oppose such extravagant and unneeded programs," O'Grady said.

Winter Wonderland

2-Inch Snowfall Blankets Area

Pickaway Counties awakened to a "winter wonderland" Thursday as the season's first measurable snowfall blanketed the area.

Official measure of the "white stuff" at 8 a.m. was two inches with another inch or more expected. The forecast, issued early today, indicated snow flurries this afternoon would be mixed with rain or sleet.

An expected overnight low in the mid 20s will increase driving hazards, the weatherman warned.

Today's snowfall caused little hardship although numerous motorists were reported "in the ditch" in the areas of state and county roads.

WORK crews of city, county and state highway departments were on the job early. Snow plows and salt trucks were put into operation for the first time today. Initial efforts were made in the city to clear intersections.

All schools were in session although many buses at various county schools reported in as late as one hour due to road conditions.

State and county highway officials reported that all roads and highways were open, but "snow covered and icy in spots."

Motorists were advised to drive with caution by area law enforcement officers. They also advised the use of seat belts. They cited many examples of injured motorists who lost con-

Jet Junkets, Double Pay Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jet-age travel has added something new to congressional junketing: an opportunity to collect daily "living expenses" twice a day.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, showed the House Wednesday how it works and his colleagues responded by voting to prohibit such practices on a forthcoming trip by a House Labor subcommittee.

Law limits congressional travelers to $50-a-day expenses in the currency of the country they are visiting. But the fast-moving congressmen frequently visit more than one country a day.

Gross said five junketers on a worldwide trip last year managed to collect $100 a day on 13 occasions by picking up $50 in each of two countries. He didn't name the travelers.

"If a racetrack offered a daily double like that it would go broke in a hurry," said Gross. He demanded that "this flagrant practice be stopped."

Gross detailed account of how the junketers operated was frowned upon by Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., sponsor of the amendment to ban the practice in the future.

"I had intended not to instruct the members in the committee technique," said Hall whose amendment was adopted by voice vote.

Peacemakers Head Home From Talks

ATHENS (AP) — The peacemakers headed home today, reporting that the threat of war between Turkey and Greece over Cyprus is over.

U.S. envoy Cyrus Vance flew from Cyprus to Athens and a reliable source said he would return to Washington shortly, having completed his mission.

Secretary-General Manlio Brosio of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization told newsmen substantial understanding between the Greek and Turkish governments had been reached and the danger of conflict no longer exists.

"My mission is over," Brosio said as he left for his headquarters in Brussels.

The third peace seeker, Jose Rolz-Bennett of the United Nations, left for New York.

President Johnson's special envoy hurried into conference with Greek Foreign Minister Panayiotis Pipinelis, who later told newsmen a communique announcing a final agreement with Turkey was being drawn up. However, he said he did not expect it to be completed today.

Vance came to Athens after seven hours of talks during the night with President Makarios of Cyprus. There were indications Makarios was at least delaying a Greek-Turkish agreement to avert war over his island nation.

But Vance told newsmen in Athens he was "very hopeful peace will be preserved."

Vance had flown to Nicosia before dawn Wednesday, reportedly to get a quick yes or no from Makarios on the proposals. But it was early today before he emerged from meetings with the leader of the island's Greek Cypriot majority.

Losers To Run For Stokes Job

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two Democrats who lost previous bids for City Council took out petitions Wednesday to run for the state representative post vacated by Carl B. Stokes when he was elected mayor of Cleveland.

They are John W. Patton and John D. Thompson Jr.

Already in the field are William Franklin, Democrat, and Paul T. Haggard, Republican. A special primary election will be held Dec. 19 and a runoff Jan. 9.

File Tax Lien Against Mobster

CLEVELAND (AP)—A $755,000 federal tax lien was filed Wednesday against Wilbur Dean, a Cleveland numbers racket figure, and his wife, Dolores.

Asst. U.S. Atty. James L. Oaker said the lien is a claim for taxes and penalties on $4.4 million in numbers operation earnings from April, 1963, to April, 1965.

He said another federal lien—for $157,000 in income taxes for the years 1961 through 1964—also is pending.

The Deans' gross gambling income was computed by the Internal Revenue Service from betting slips seized in a raid by IRS agents on their home on April 5, 1965. The agents seized almost $306,000 in cash in the raid.

The Deans are appealing a ruling that the government could keep the money.

House Fire Fatal to 4 In Coshocton

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP) — Fire swept through a two-story frame dwelling here early today, killed a family of four.

The victims were 36-year-old William T. Gray, an employee of the Cyclops steel plant here; his wife Helen, 30, and their two daughters, Teresa, 10, and Pauline, 9.

Fire Chief Richard Faver said the fire broke out about 2:45 a.m. and flames prevented firemen from entering the house immediately.

Firemen found Mrs. Grey dead at the top of the stairs and one daughter lying dead on the floor in the parents' bedroom where the father was also dead.

The chief said one of the girls may have been awakened by the smoke and tried to warn her parents. The other daughter was found dead in another bedroom.

The fire started on the first floor at the rear of the house possibly in the kitchen. The two bedrooms were over the kitchen area.

Trial Delayed In Painesville

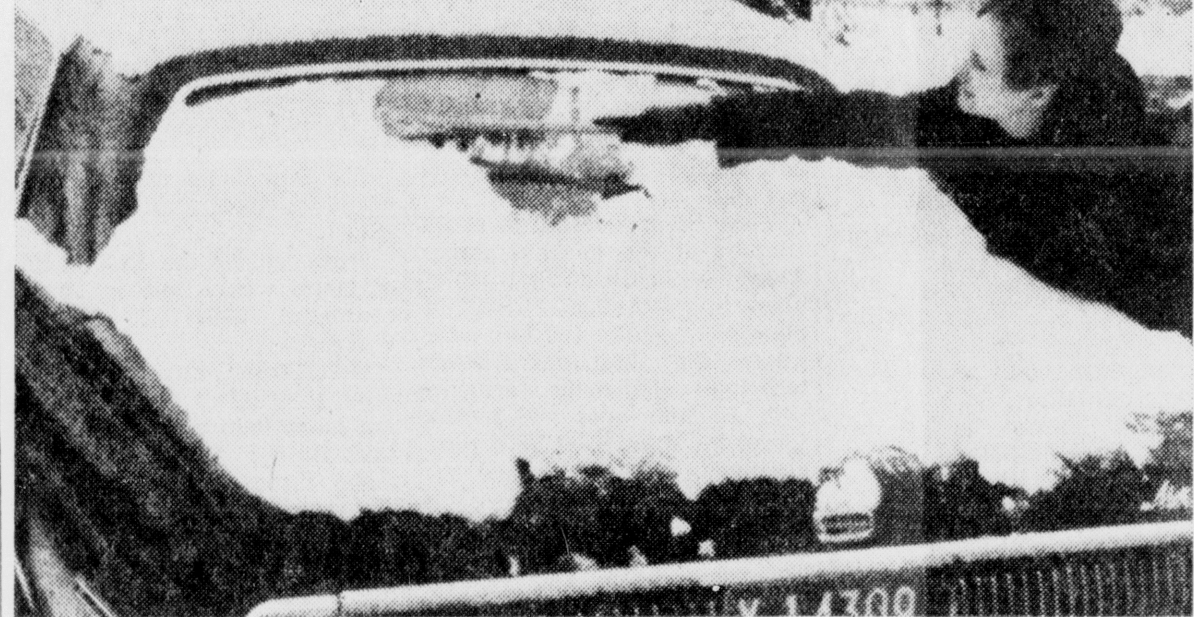

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The murder trial of a 16-year-old boy charged with killing his father was delayed by legal arguments Wednesday in Lake County Common Pleas Court.

Lawyers debated whether statements made to police by the defendant, Fred M. Eschrick Jr., violated his constitutional rights in the light of recent U.S. Supreme Court rulings.

Judge John F. Clair Jr. ordered the courtroom closed to the jury, newsmen and the public while lawyers for both sides argued legal questions concerning what the judge called the admissibility of evidence.

See Slight Motion On Tax Boost Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are no signs the Johnson administration's last-minute push for quick enactment of a tax boost has started the measure rolling through Congress.

"Psychologically the need is to do something and do it fast," Chairman William McCleskey Martin of the Federal Reserve Board told the House Ways and Means Committee.

But at the opening hearing Wednesday no committee member said anything that challenged Chairman Wilbur D. Mills' pronouncement that passage of a tax measure before Congress adjourns for 1967 would be impossible.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, one of the few committee members who has publicly spoken of the need to raise taxes to reduce the federal deficit, asked Budget Director Charles L. Schultze whether it would not be wise to wait until the time for drawing up the new budget—probably late January—before deciding on a tax increase.

Schultze disagreed, as did Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler.

Fowler told Vanik, who had suggested Americans might resist a tax increase justified largely by effects of devaluing the British pound, "This is not a passing situation. For months we have been urging the need of a tax increase."

Several members focused on Schultze's testimony that the prospective deficit, which had been forecast at up to $29 billion—and which President Johnson at one point said might reach $35 billion—is now calculated at $22.5 billion.

Rep. James A. Burke, D-Mass., asked whether as large a tax increase is needed in view of a smaller deficit. The administration witnesses stuck to their recommendations.

Quaker Yacht Leaves Viet

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — The pacifist yacht Phoenix left Da Nang today, its mission to turn over $6,250 in medical supplies unfulfilled.

The crew cast off before noon from a Vietnamese naval base, with Hong Kong as the yacht's reported destination.

The six men and two women of the Phoenix were confined to the base during their latest four-day stay here. Government officials would not allow newsmen to approach them.

Dr. Harrison Butterworth, Ohio University English professor, was granted permission by the government to leave the Phoenix and fly to Hong Kong.

The request of the pacifists to turn over the medical supplies to the United Buddhist Church was denied by the South Vietnamese government. The supplies originally were intended for North Vietnam. North Vietnamese authorities barred the yacht from entering Haiphong Harbor on grounds it was unsafe because of U.S. air raids.

Merchants, too, were glad to see the snow. Many feel it will put shoppers in a holiday mood. Not only that, one merchant noted, "it'll keep shoppers in Circleville."

Nixon To Delay Decision on '68 Plans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The campaign for the Republican presidential nomination makes such heavy demands, says Richard M. Nixon, that it should be entered only at the last possible moment.

The reply: If, toward the end of January, "public acceptance is somewhere near where it is now, I expect to be a candidate."

Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., intends to challenge President Johnson in at least four presidential preference primaries next year. He indicated in advance of his formal announcement that he will enter primaries in Wisconsin Apr. 2, Nebraska May 14, Oregon May 23 and California June 4.

McCarthy, who acknowledges it would be almost impossible to take the nomination away from Johnson, maintains Vietnam policy must be debated within the Democratic party. His supporters say a sizable vote for him would indicate a degree of voter disenchantment with Johnson and his policies.

A different sort of political reaction came from New Jersey Wednesday as the state's 21 Democratic county organizations unanimously endorsed President Johnson for re-election.

He called also for a policy of preventive diplomacy to assure that the United States does not become embroiled in another Vietnam in Africa, Latin America or elsewhere in South East Asia.

Then he backed a statement by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower approving of a policy of hot pursuit of enemy forces in South Vietnam, even if the trail should lead into Laos, Cambodia or Red China.

The United States, Nixon declared, can prevent a widening of the Vietnam war by "making it clear that intervention by fighting men or planes will bring reaction." But he said he understood no North Vietnamese planes are now based at

McCarthy Enters Fray Against LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy announced today he will challenge President Johnson on the Vietnam issue in four Democratic presidential primaries and possibly two others.

"There is growing evidence of a deepening moral crisis in America," the Minnesota Democrat told a crowded news conference.

He said he will enter primaries in Wisconsin, Oregon, California and Nebraska.

He will decide within two weeks on Massachusetts and New Hampshire, McCarthy said.

Actually, the races in Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon are automatic for a presidential contender because state election laws in those states require that all candidates, in both parties, be listed on the ballot.

McCarthy hopes to gain a significant vote against Johnson in Wisconsin, acknowledges he may have little success in Nebraska, expresses belief he can do well in Oregon.

That leaves the final contest in California, a crucial one in McCarthy's view. He hopes to secure the support of the dissident California Democratic Council for his effort there.

McCarthy acknowledges the task of wresting the nomination from an incumbent President is virtually impossible. But he maintains the Democratic party must conduct a campaign debate over Vietnam policy.

Should McCarthy enter the New Hampshire or Massachusetts contest, he would be likely to face stand-in Democrats running in Johnson's behalf.

That was the strategy used by the White House in 1964 against the primary challenge of former then-Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

In New Hampshire, the administration stand-in could be Gov. John W. King or Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre.

And there have been reports the White House might turn to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy for Massachusetts assistance.

The role McCarthy has chosen is an ironic one, for the 51-year-old Democrat was among the men Johnson hinted he might want as a vice presidential running mate in the 1964 election.

Quake Kills 7 In Macedonia

BELGRADE (AP) — An earthquake thundering across the Yugoslav-Albanian border wrecked the town of Debar in western Yugoslav Macedonia today, killing at least seven persons.

Belgrade Radio said it was feared the wreckage concealed many more dead. The official Tanjug news agency said about 80 per cent of the buildings in Debar, a town of 8,000 people, were destroyed.

There were no immediate damage reports from Communist Albania and none likely for some time.

In Uppsala, Sweden, the seismological institution said the quake registered 6.5 on the Richter scale, half a point stronger than the 1963 earthquake which destroyed Skopje, the capital of Yugoslav Macedonia.

The seismological institute at Skopje said the quake took place 65 miles to the west, an area just over the Albanian border. No damage was reported in Skopje, which was rebuilt after the 1963 quake.

Aid to Debar was delayed by transport difficulties. Landslides blocked roads in the area, and special teams had to be sent to open them. There is no railroad to the town, in a deep valley at the foot of a mountain, and bad weather grounded army helicopters in Skopje.

However, army teams from border stations made it to the town and began the search for dead and injured and the transfer of survivors to the lakeside resort of Ohrid.

Debar was reported without food, electricity, or water, and trucks set out with supplies.

The region where the quake was strongest has about 16,000 residents, mostly farm workers.

A radio request for 10,000 tents was received in Belgrade.

Macedonia has Greek Macedonia on its south and Albania on its west. The quake was felt strongly on the Greek island of Corfu and in northwestern Greece around Igoumenitsa, the Athens seismological institute reported, but there was no immediate word of casualties there.

South Yemen Officially Free Nation

ADEN (AP) — Thousands of Arabs gathered outside abandoned British forts and barracks today, cheering the red, white and black colors of the South Yemen People's Republic on its first day of independence. The nation's new leader, until three months ago a hunted terrorist, received a tumultuous welcome.

British rule ended at midnight Wednesday after 128 years. A few hours before the last 900 men of a British force that once numbered 12,000 were flown from an abandoned golf course to the carrier Albion, and the British naval task force sailed at dusk.

Crowds celebrated through the night, then massed at the Aden airport this morning to welcome Qahtan Al Shaabi, certain to be the new republic's president or premier, and 11 other top leaders of the National Liberation Front.

Al Shaabi was embraced by 93 religious and civil leaders before leading a motorcade under triumphal arches to the city.

As late as a month ago, the NLF's gunmen had been firing both at British Tommies and members of the Front for the Liberation of South Yemen—FLOSY—which challenged it for control.

FLOSY lost out in the power struggle to take over from the British.

Arrest Pair In Oakwood Bank Holdup

PAULDING, Ohio (AP)—The $16,000 holdup of a bank in nearby Oakwood resulted Wednesday in the arrest of two men, each held in the Paulding County jail here under $25,000 bond.

Sheriff John L. Keeler reported that James Robert Carter, 20, Charleston, W. Va., and Doyt Raymond Fouty, 49, Rt. 1 Hicksville also near here, were taken into custody Wednesday.

Fouty is a former resident of Van Wert.

Bond was set by a U.S. commissioner shortly after they were arrested on a federal warrant charging violation of the federal bank robbery statute.

The bank was robbed Nov. 12 by a gunman who escaped in a car which was found later in New Haven Ind., near Fort Wayne.

Keeler would not disclose the circumstances of the arrests. He said they resulted from a combined investigation of the FBI, Paulding and Defiance County sheriff's departments, Hicksville, Oakwood and Antwerp police.

A substantial amount of the money was recovered, the sheriff reported.

U.S. Battalion Used as Bait in Bu Dop Battle

Editor's Note: When the Communists hit a South Vietnamese headquarters near the Bu Dop special forces camp early Wednesday, commanders of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division sensed a major battle might be in the offing and flew in a battalion as bait. BU DOP, Vietnam (AP) — Backed by big artillery rockets and heavy mortars, a large Communist force attempted Wednesday night to overrun a battalion from the U.S. 1st Infantry Division staked out as bait. The Communist assault died at a big concrete cross in a Roman Catholic cemetery 50 yards from the American lines.

Using tactics that have cost them dearly this year in fighting north of Saigon, the Communists attempted again to overwhelm well dug-in American positions but American infantrymen, artillery and air power hurled them back and inflicted heavy casualties.

Twenty enemy bodies were found on the battlefield, and one wounded man was captured. But the fleeing Reds carried away many more dead.

Seven Americans were killed and 13 were wounded. One 122mm enemy rocket scored a direct hit on an American bunker, killing the three men inside and burying them under five feet of dirt.

A mortar crew fighting valiantly in the open was wiped out by a direct hit.

The attack came at 10 p.m. as many Americans slept in the open while their comrades kept watch. The first salvo of 122mm rockets sent men scrambling for their sandbagged bunkers. Mortars and antitank rockets began dropping in, making bright orange-yellow flashes in the night and spewing thousands of pieces of shrapnel.

"Doc! Doc! Hey, where's the medic?" a man called as he dodged among the bunkers.

Moments later machine guns began spraying the American positions.

A mortar round hit a rubber gasoline storage dump set up for helicopters and a sheet of flame shot several hundred feet into the air. The fiery tails of Communist rockets arched through the night sky.

Ground fire intensified as the enemy massed for a ground attack. Antitank rockets were launched at the forward American bunkers but failed to knock any out.

More firing touched off another part of the gasoline dump. American artillery fired point-blank into the edge of a rubber plantation 100 yards away where the Communists were massing. Helicopter gunships joined the fighting at 10:38 p.m., but the enemy mortar and machine gun fire continued without letup.

The U.S. artillery was exploding so close to the American positions that bits of shrapnel fell within the lines.

Men called to neighboring bunkers to check on their buddies. Calls to the northeast corner bunker went unanswered. It was the one wiped out by a 122mm rocket.

A necklace of flares dropped by Air Force planes allowed the infantrymen on both sides to aim their weapons accurately.

At the battalion aid station, the battle to save lives was under way.

One man had been hit in the mouth and was struggling.

Capt. Samuel Kalush of Lockport, N.Y., performed a tracheotomy on the dirt floor of the tent.

A medic, Pfc. Thomas Torres of Houston, Tex., reported he had found a man with a head wound and had begun carrying him to the aid station.

"But he stopped breathing and I lost him," Torres said, "I tried. I did what I could."

On the east perimeter, the flames from the gasoline fire silhouetted a seven-foot cross in a Roman Catholic graveyard.

Americans in the bunkers could see movement in the rubber trees beyond and called in more direct artillery fire.

Air Force jets dropping cluster bomb units, napalm and large bombs repeatedly seeded the area with explosive and fiery death.

Shrapnel chipped away at the big cross and smaller ones nearby in the cemetery.

Spec. 4 Marty Cardines of Des Moines, Iowa, grinned and reported he had hit one of the attacking troops in the chest with his grenade launcher.

"It just lit him all up and blew him away," he said.

constructive discussions with Archbishop Makarios and that is all I have to say," Vance told newsmen.

"I endorse that statement," added the president, who had been reported objecting to key demands made by the Turks.

Smiles on the faces of the two men plus Vance's cautiously positive statement seemed to indicate a feeling that this Cypriot president's objections could be worked out.

Turkey still was poised for the invasion it threatened after a battle on the island Nov. 15 in which 27 Turkish Cypriots and two Greek Cypriots were killed. Turkish jets swept low over Nicosia, the Cypriot capital, while Vance was there.

But Greece changed the orders to its armed forces on its 80-mile border with Turkey from "combat alert" to simple "readiness" and the tension eased among the Greek soldiers.

Makarios' objections reportedly centered on Turkey's demand for the disbanding of the Cypriot national guard, which Makarios claims was formed to protect the island from possible Turkish invasion.

The archbishop also was reported willing to accept Turkey's demand for the withdrawal of some 8,000-12,000 Greek soldiers on Cyprus illegally only if Turkey guaranteed never to invade the island.

Delegation To Attend NFO Meeting

With a theme of "No Price-No Production", thousands of delegates of the National Farmers Organization will assemble in Louisville, Ky., December 6-7.

Tom Conrad, said this week that Pickaway County will send a full slate of delegates to the Louisville convention.

In a special message to Pickaway County will send a full slate of delegates to the Louisville convention.

In a special message to Pickaway County NFO member, NFO President Oren Lee Staley said "Farmers throughout the nation are realizing that NFO offers them the only hope of meeting their problems caused by low farm prices."

He said that farmers are getting in the mood more and more every day to shut down the agricultural plant unless they receive fair farm prices.

Spurred by the "Meeting for Action" in Des Moines, Ia., last August and the rising acceptance of the NFO program of collective bargaining for agriculture, a record number of NFO delegates is expected for participation in decisions that will chart the future course of American agriculture.

At the November NFO Pickaway county meeting held at the home of Joe Carle it was announced by Conrad that 25 new members have been signed to NFO in the past two months. "This," he said, "is proof that NFO and collective bargaining is meeting with acceptance among farmers." The next county meeting will be on December 19.

McCarthy Enters Fray Against LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy announced today he will challenge President Johnson on the Vietnam issue in four Democratic presidential primaries and possibly two others.

"There is growing evidence of a deepening moral crisis in America," the Minnesota Democrat told a crowded news conference.

He said he will enter primaries in Wisconsin, Oregon, California and Nebraska.

He will decide within two weeks on Massachusetts and New Hampshire, McCarthy said.

Actually, the races in Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon are automatic for a presidential contender because state election laws in those states require that all candidates, in both parties, be listed on the ballot.

McCarthy hopes to gain a significant vote against Johnson in Wisconsin, acknowledges he may have little success in Nebraska, expresses belief he can do well in Oregon.

That leaves the final contest in California, a crucial one in McCarthy's view. He hopes to secure the support of the dissident California Democratic Council for his effort there.

McCarthy acknowledges the task of wresting the nomination from an incumbent President is virtually impossible. But he maintains the Democratic party must conduct a campaign debate over Vietnam policy.

Should McCarthy enter the New Hampshire or Massachusetts contest, he would be likely to face stand-in Democrats running in Johnson's behalf.

That was the strategy used by the White House in 1964 against the primary challenge of former then-Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

Charge Pair In Niles Kidnaping

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Two youths who participated in a shootout with police early Monday at the Holiday Inn on U.S. 422 east of Niles have been charged with kidnaping and intentional shooting.

Aubrey Roberts, 19, of Youngstown, who had been held in Warren City Jail since the gunfight, pleaded innocent in Municipal Court Wednesday to both charges. Judge James A. Ravella set a hearing for Dec. 7. Roberts is held in lieu of $40,000 bond.

John Joyce, 18, Boardman, is in St. Elizabeth Hospital at Youngstown recovering from wounds suffered in the shootout and will be arraigned later.

Joyce's brother, William, 27, was killed in the shootout, in which four policemen were wounded.

The gun battle followed when police went to the motel to investigate a complaint that three men were trying to loot a vending machine.

The Joyce brothers were named in a warrant issued last Saturday accusing them of the $800 robbery of the Seven-Mile Inn at Austintown on Friday.

One man had been hit in the mouth and was strangling. Capt. Samuel Kalush of Lockport, N.Y., performed a tracheotomy on the dirt floor of the tent.

A medic, Pfc. Thomas Torres of Houston, Tex., reported he had found a man with a head wound and had begun carrying him to the aid station.

"But he stopped breathing and I lost him," Torres said. "I tried. I did what I could."

On the east perimeter, the flames from the gasoline fire silhouetted a seven-foot cross in a Roman Catholic graveyard. Americans in the bunkers could see movement in the rubber trees beyond and called in more direct artillery fire.

Air Force jets dropping cluster bomb units, napalm and large bombs repeatedly seeded the area with explosive and fiery death.

Shrapnel chipped away at the big cross and smaller ones nearby in the cemetery.

Spec. 4 Marty Cardines of Des Moines, Iowa, grinned and reported he had hit one of the attacking troops in the chest with his grenade launcher.

"It just lit him all up and blew him away," he said.

"Man, they tangled with the wrong outfit this time," a buddy said with gusto.

Communist troops still moved in the shadows, retrieving their dead, as dawn came.

constructive discussions with Archbishop Makarios and that is all I have to say," Vance told newsmen.

"I endorse that statement," added the president, who had been reported objecting to key demands made by the Turks.

Smiles on the faces of the two men plus Vance's cautiously positive statement seemed to indicate a feeling that this Cypriot president's objections could be worked out.

Turkey still was poised for the invasion it threatened after a battle on the island Nov. 15 in which 27 Turkish Cypriots and two Greek Cypriots were killed. Turkish jets swept low over Nicosia, the Cypriot capital, while Vance was there.

But Greece changed the orders to its armed forces on its 80-mile border with Turkey from "combat alert" to simple "readiness" and the tension eased among the Greek soldiers.

Makarios' objections reportedly centered on Turkey's demand for the disbanding of the Cypriot national guard, which Makarios claims was formed to protect the island from possible Turkish invasion.

The archbishop also was reported willing to accept Turkey's demand for the withdrawal of some 8,000-12,000 Greek soldiers on Cyprus illegally only if Turkey guaranteed never to invade the island.

Business Briefs

Representatives of the Hill Implement Co. have just attended a product showing of new machines that International Harvester Company plans to introduce in 1968.

The firm is currently mapping plans for an open house to announce this new equipment locally.

Lewis A. Haynes, crop insurance supervisor for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, Xenia, announced today that Dec. 10 is the deadline for filing notices of loss on corn harvested.

He also noted that policyholders who felt their standing crop did not make the bushel guarantee for the area could file by that date also.

Soybeans harvested or in the field which did not or will not make the production guarantee must also be reported by Dec. 10 Haynes said.

"It is now estimated that some 2,000 farmers in Ohio will share in payments which may approach three quarters of a million dollars. In this area alone it is now estimated that approximately 700 farmers will receive $250,000 in indemnities," Haynes said.

"These payments will be made because of crop damage due mostly to excessive moisture at planting time followed by drought during the growing season and high moisture conditions at harvest," the insurance supervisor explained.

Delegation To Attend NFO Meeting

With a theme of "No Price-No Production", thousands of delegates of the National Farmers Organization will assemble in Louisville, Ky., December 6-7.

Tom Conrad, said this week that Pickaway County will send a full slate of delegates to the Louisville convention.

In a special message to Pickaway County NFO member, NFO President Oren Lee Staley said "Farmers throughout the nation are realizing that NFO offers them the only hope of meeting their problems caused by low farm prices."

He said that farmers are getting in the mood more and more every day to shut down the agricultural plant unless they receive fair farm prices.

Spurred by the "Meeting for Action" in Des Moines, Ia., last August and the rising acceptance of the NFO program of collective bargaining for agriculture, a record number of NFO delegates is expected for participation in decisions that will chart the future course of American agriculture.

At the November NFO Pickaway county meeting held at the home of Joe Carle it was announced by Conrad that 25 new members have been signed to NFO in the past two months.

"This," he said, "is proof that NFO and collective bargaining is meeting with acceptance among farmers." The next county meeting will be on December 19.

15 Cases Heard By Muny Court

Frederick L. Hunter, 50, Route 4, forfeited a $24 bond set on charges of driving an unsafe vehicle.

Foot And Mouth Epizootic Worst Ever in Britain

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — The smoky reek of death rises over Britain's russet countryside this fall. The nation is burning infected livestock.
The worst epizootic of foot and mouth disease this island has ever known has brought the destruction of more than 200,000 animals—cattle, sheep, pigs, goats.
More than 1,000 farms and 14 northern counties are directly affected. The rest of the nation is in a state of virtual siege in an attempt to keep the disease from spreading.
Standstill orders prohibit the movement of cattle, sheep or pigs. The markets are silent and deserted, their stalls empty.
The 500 veterinarians fighting the epizootic—animal version of an epidemic—say the virus is the most virulent encountered yet. They aren't sure of its origin but they believe that a farmer's boot, a truck tire or a sudden change of wind can spread it.
Since the accepted method of control is slaughter, each new outbreak means another farmer's livestock is wiped out.
The farmer gets market value for his lost stock. He gets nothing for the consequential losses—milk yield, butter sales, the cost of building a new herd.
To some the spread of the disease, which first showed at Oswestry near the Welsh border five weeks ago, is reaching alarming proportions. There have even been suggestions it is out of control.
Minister of Agriculture Fred

Peart calls such talk irresponsible. Even with the current proportions of judicial carnage, he says, Britain is losing less than one in every hundred of her 9 million cattle, 5½ million pigs and 20 million sheep.
But the blow to badly needed exports is severe. Rudi Steinberg, chairman of the Agricultural Export Council, has reported the loss of a $297,600 order from the Soviet Union for British cattle.
While many farmers are forced to live virtually isolated on their farms, windows closed against the stench from their burning stock, each country-man's life is affected.

Fox hunting, favorite winter sport of landowner and farmer alike, is completely stopped. So is horse racing.
The famed Smithfield Fatstock Show will have no live animals—just farm machinery. London's Christmas poultry show is off; while the disease does not affect poultry, officials discourage large meetings of farmers.
Southern England's 104 square miles of New Forest, once William the Conqueror's favored hunting ground, has been cleared of all grazing stock for the first time in 700 years.
Several zoos have closed. State homes are barred to visitors to protect deer in their parks.
The 30,000 Irish who usually go home for a Christmas visit are asked by the republic's government to stay away this time. Those who travel have to walk through an atomizer mist of disinfectant on arriving at Dublin Airport.
Disinfectant baths for vehicles have been set up on roads at strategic points to protect southern England from possibly infected traffic from the north.
The Farmers' Union points out that the foot and mouth virus can live six months in a marrow bone and is asking people not to give their dogs bones, lest the dogs spread it further.
Some farmers suspect that the outbreak started with infected meat, possibly imported, being fed as swill to pigs.
There are plenty of other theories. Some blame migrating starlings for starting it all. The plain truth seems to be that the experts don't know.
There's been no noticeable effect on milk production but meat prices are up. Part of the rise, however, is blamed on a dock strike which held up frozen shipments from New Zealand.

Killed in Action

WASHINGTON (AP)— Three army men from Ohio have been killed in recent action in Vietnam the Defense Department reports. They were Sgt. William W. McGrew, Sugar Grove, Fairfield County; Spec 4 Robert T. Bly, Toledo; Pfc. Robert L. Sas, Cleveland.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Rep. Barry Levey R-39 Butler says he will try again to secure departmental status for the Ohio Division of Aviation when the general assembly resumed Jan. 15.

This Would Be a Switch

Adult education is nothing new in the United States, but Sen. Vance Hartke's call for a major overhaul of the education system to transfer the emphasis from young people to adults is one of the most extreme arguments yet advanced in its behalf.

The Senator does make a point when he says, "Throughout our history we have fostered a curious contradiction in our education. We have educated the child, who could not participate in the affairs of democracy, while we denied continuing education to his parents . . ."

Hartke further warned that "The world of tomorrow cannot be built on the obsolescent learning obtained in yesterday's classroom."

No doubt many young people would add Hartke's name to the field of presidential possibilities if he ran solely on the plank of throwing the kids out of school to make room for their parents. All he has to do is see to it that those under 21 have the vote, and those over don't.

According to Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Members of European royalty once used to paint the veins in their temples bright blue so that the lower classes would be sure to recognize they were blue-blooded.

I have been told that I have an inflammation of the pancreas. It all sounds so vague, mostly because I have no idea what the pancreas is, where it is or what it does. I felt so ridiculous that I was ashamed to admit it to my doctor.

Mr. V.R.I., Wisconsin Dear Mr. I: I will, of course try to give you some information about the pancreas and its diseases. Before I do, I would prefer writing about the hesitation that you and other patients feel about talking to their doctors.

Occasionally a physician is so completely enveloped by obligations that he cannot at that moment discuss every aspect of a patient's disease. A doctor will do so if one is not too impatient and at a time that is most comfortable for both of you.

Unless a disease, its known cause, its seriousness and the planned treatment is completely understood by the patient the chances are that the good relationship between the patient and his doctor will be undermined by confusion.

The pancreas is a flat gland which lies behind the stomach and which manufactures digestive juices and hormones. Insulin is produced in a special part of the pancreas and is directly responsible for the utilization of sugar by the body.

Through a thin duct the pancreas pours its digestive juices and enzymes into the stomach and plays a most important part in complete healthy digestion.

The pancreas is subject to all the diseases of all other organs. It can be acutely inflamed and it may be the seat of chronic disease. Tumors of the pancreas occasionally occur.

The pancreas can be affected by infectious diseases, like mumps, liver disease and chronic alcoholism. When the diagnosis is made, treatment is usually a combination of drugs and diet.

I am certain that your own physician can expand further on your problem to eliminate any confusion that may still persist.

I have been getting repeated painful sores in the mouth. I eat a normal diet. Could this be a vitamin deficiency? What can be done to prevent it or cure it if it happens again?

Mrs. F.P., California

Dear Mrs. P.: By the numbers of letters I receive about these canker sores, or aphthous ulcers, they are indeed a common and distressing condition. The cause is truly unknown.

It is suspected that a virus is the culprit. Physicians are sympathetic about these painful sores but sometimes throw up their hands in sheer frustration because of their inability to prevent their recurrence.

The painful ulcers have been cauterized and covered with anesthetics with only mild relief. A lactobacillus preparation, used for the souring of milk or yogurt, has given some promise for the relief and prevention of these ulcers.

Recently a most encouraging report was published on the use of the female hormone, estrogen, for the quicker control of the distressing symptoms associated with mouth ulcers. It is worth a try if your own physician agrees.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is more of a hawk in this war than the Johnson administration has been—so far.

Eisenhower said he would approve invading the demilitarized zone in Vietnam, pursuing enemy ground forces into Laos and Cambodia, and even chasing enemy planes into Red China.

He spoke Tuesday night in a CBS television interview which was taped last Friday, three days before the news leaked out that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, who has a much more restrained view of the war, is leaving President Johnson's Cabinet.

There have been repeated reports in recent months of conflict between McNamara and U.S. military leaders who wanted a much tougher war.

Johnson and his top civilian advisers, who included McNamara, have been persistent in continuing the war against North Vietnam but they have been waging it, and speaking about it, in more cautious terms than Eisenhower's.

For instance, the American forces have been careful not to invade the demilitarized zone in Vietnam. And, contrary to the wishes of top U.S. military men, the forces have put a limit on bombing targets, including the harbor of Haiphong in the North.

And American fliers have been careful to avoid the air space over Red China.

Eisenhower sounded more like the Senate preparedness subcommittee which last August was sharply critical of McNamara's less than all-out ideas on fighting the war.

It recommended an immediate increase in bombing of all important military targets in North Vietnam, even if it risked war with Red China. It has long been taken for granted the Johnson administration did not want to give Red China an excuse for coming into the war by an American invasion of North Vietnam or American pursuit of North Vietnamese planes over China.

But Eisenhower discounted the possibility of major intervention by Red China or the Soviet Union if his views were followed. The former president said the United States can win the war and should do so as quickly as possible.

The preparedness subcommittee, which listened to testimony from McNamara in August said: "What is needed now is the hard decision to do whatever is necessary, take the risks that have to be taken, and apply the force that is required to see the job through."

In his testimony McNamara warned against widening the war with the risk of involving the Soviet Union or Red China. McNamara was of the opinion that increased bombing could not win or shorten the war and that the final victory must be won by ground forces in South Vietnam.

The subcommittee conceded the war could not be won alone by air or bombing attacks but insisted these tactics are vital to a successful ground war in South Vietnam.

And, the subcommittee complained, "Every military witness who testified emphasized that the air war has been waged under severe handicaps which were contrary to military principles."

The senators, in a report on their hearings, stressed sharp differences between McNamara and what the subcommittee said were the unanimous recommendations of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and other top military leaders.

While more targets in North Vietnam have been removed from the administration's restricted list in the past year, McNamara was against bombing Haiphong's docks and up until now the administration has backed him up on that.

The Eisenhower statements and the McNamara departure, coming so close together, may have been sheer coincidence. But the most interesting question left is this: With McNamara out of the way, will Johnson move over to the Eisenhower-Senate subcommittee view and start making this a lot fiercer war?

WASHINGTON REPORT

From

WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
6th District, Ohio

While President Johnson stoutly declares the dollar stable, international money speculators, are exchanging dollars for more sound currencies.

Near panic buying of gold by foreign speculators indicates that they are betting on devaluation of the dollar.

This speculation in gold bullion has been inspired not only by the devaluation of the British Pound and its subsequent effect upon the U. S. balance of payments deficits, but also by the fiscal policies of the United States.

While France denies any deliberate part in this new wave of gold buying, her withdrawal from the "international gold pool" whetted speculative activity in gold.

Add to this her actions over the past seven years and one begins to doubt the sincerity of France's disavowal.

At the end of 1960 total French gold holdings were $1.641 billion, at the end of 1966 they were $5.238 billion. This represents an increase of $3.597 billion over the past five years.

Not all of this was purchased from the U. S., but a substantial part was. Some was purchased from Great Britain and some from Russia, but as a practical matter it makes little difference where France buys the gold since it tends to result in a drain on our gold supplies.

Contrasting France's gold position is that of the United States. In 1960, U. S. gold stocks amounted to $17.80 billion. At the end of 1966 they totaled $13.24 billion or a loss of $4.56 billion over the same period France was gaining.

As of the latter part of February, 1967 this figure had dropped to $13.109 billion, the lowest level since August 24, 1938. Today the total is $12.9 billion.

The situation becomes even more deplorable when we realize that France owes the United States a debt as the result of World War I in the total sum, of $6 billion 716 million. No payments have been made on this since 1931.

As a result of World War II France is obligated to the United States by an additional balance of $302.8 million. This sum was considerably larger but France continues to place a severe strain on our gold reserves by purchasing our gold bullion instead of paying her obligations.

Before honoring France's claims for gold the U. S. should insist upon payment of France's debt to America.

The Polls Will Decide

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

It will, so everybody says, be a "brokered" Republican convention in 1968. Hence anybody and his brother who sees the possibility of making a deal persists in remaining "loose." This goes for prospective kings and kingmakers alike: at least ten "favorite sons" are in the uncommitted category, ready to trade for the Vice Presidency; and Clif White, who created the Goldwater bandwagon in 1964, turns down Nixon and Romney camp bids with imperturbable impartiality, waiting, like Talleyrand, to throw his weight where it could really make a king.

The "brokered" convention, however, won't be quite as much a "smoke filled room" phenomenon as Republican tradition might suggest. It is inconceivable that the politicians would come up with a 1968 version of a Warren Harding - Calvin Coolidge ticket. The choice will go to the man who can present the most impressive combination of high standing in the popular polls and strong vote-getting ability in the primaries. Instead of the "bosses" in the smoke-filled room, the king-making eminences at the convention will be George Gallup, Lou Harris, and the citizens of New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska, and Oregon.

In the present atmosphere the importance of a "power base" is not what it used to be. Governor Nelson Rockefeller "owns" New York, with its huge electoral convention vote, but what is more germane to Rocky's chances for winding up in the top Republican spot is his resurgence-value as measured by the Gallup. So with Nick Nixon, who "owns" no state and whose best early-foot bet in the primaries is New Hampshire, which is currently dominated by Democrats. The public will make or break California's Ronald Reagan, whose chances are dependent on the degree to which Nixon is subject to voter fickleness in the primaries. Oddly, Oregon, whose Governor Tom McCall was for Rockefeller until he was called off, could be the state to put Reagan in the running.

The polls, of course, are like a horse race in which the early starter (George Romney) may fade in the middle distance, and in which laggards may be ridden to startling finishes. Rockefeller's comeback from his low of 1964 has been remarkable. But even more amazing is Nixon's revival on the Gallup. Just five years ago Nixon announced his permanent retirement from American politics and denounced the press for kicking him around. In a post-mortem in the 1962 California gubernatorial election, Howard K. Smith, the ABC-TV commentator, called his program "The Political Obituary of Richard Nixon" and brought in no less a character than Alger Hiss as a guest star to celebrate Nixon's political demise. Since Nixon had made his early record by exposing Hiss, nothing could have been more humiliating.

The polls of the summer of 1964, rating prominent Republicans against Lyndon Johnson, gave LBJ seventy per cent of the popular vote where Nixon got only twenty-seven per cent. Today Nixon leads Johnson by a 49-45 Gallup score. Nelson Rockefeller does even better against Johnson, with a 54-40 margin. But Rockefeller manifestly benefits from the fact that he has both doves and hawks in his corner, which would cease to be true once he had taken the open stand on Vietnam that would be required from an active candidate. Nixon does a shade better than Rocky against Bobby Kennedy.

Nixon has made his climb without benefit of mass media support or PR firm manipulation. The climb could be halted by a poor showing in the New Hampshire primary. In which case, Romney, if he can rehabilitate himself by a big New Hampshire vote, would take a new lease on life. Reagan would be in a good position to prove himself in Wisconsin, Nebraska, and Oregon. The stage would be set for a real convention duel — and it is at least barely conceivable that Rockefeller might overcome the "high malice quotient" of the Goldwater conservatives to emerge the compromise victor in the smoke-filled room.

But one thing is sure: it will be a "name" Republican, not a Warren Gamaliel Harding, who will get the nod. The polls will be the decisive factor.

What Killed UNCLE

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Was it the supremely diabolical plot by the agency of evil, Thrush? Or was it merely anemia of the ratings that killed "The Man from Uncle"?

Robert Vaughn, who has been thwarting Thrush for 3½ years in the title role of the MGM-NBC television series, suspects the ratings were the real culprit. Whatever the cause, "UNCLE" makes an ignominious midseason departure from the network in January. The series will shortly be popping up on local stations via syndication.

It was fun while it lasted. Vaughn as Napoleon Solo and British actor David McCallum as Ilya Kuryakin became the television equivalents of matinee idols and were mobbed on personal appearances. They made many such tours in the first season, and their efforts played a big role in assuring a renewal for the series, which took time to build its audience.

Teen-agers and collegiates provided the core of "UNCLE's" popularity. Some were fooled by the phony tag at the end of the show acknowledging the cooperation of the "United Command for Law and Enforcement." The United Nations headquarters in New York was flooded with inquiries about the organization.

Commenting on the show's closing, Vaughn opined: "I think the fad dissipated itself, just as all fads must. The movie market was inundated with spy satires of the 'Our Man Flint' type. Television had its own cycle of satires with 'Get Smart,' 'Wild Wild West' and others."

Vaughn agreed that the switch of time periods from Friday to Monday did not help his show's chances—"Our audience wasn't able to find us."

His personal reaction to "UNCLE's" end: "I'm glad it's over, but I'm sorry for those who were put out of work because of it. As for myself, I profited career-wise, money-wise and otherwise because of the show. I have now put in almost five years in television—I did 'The Lieutenant' for a year before 'UNCLE'—and that's enough."

"Now I want to do feature films. I can work half the time for twice the money that I earned in television. If I made two pictures a year, I would have six months left for my other activities."

Adult education is nothing new in the United States, but Sen. Vance Hartke's call for a major overhaul of the education system to transfer the emphasis from young people to adults is one of the most extreme arguments yet advanced in its behalf.

The Senator does make a point when he says, "Throughout our history we have fostered a curious contradiction in our education. We have educated the child, who could not participate in the affairs of democracy, while we denied continuing education to his parents . . ."

Hartke further warned that "The world of tomorrow cannot be built on the obsolescent learning obtained in yesterday's classroom."

No doubt many young people would add Hartke's name to the field of presidential possibilities if he ran solely on the plank of throwing the kids out of school to make room for their parents. All he has to do is see to it that those under 21 have the vote, and those over don't.

As a result of World War II France is obligated to the United States by an additional balance of $302.8 million. This sum was considerably larger but France continues to place a severe strain on our gold reserves by purchasing our gold bullion instead of paying her obligations.

Before honoring France's claims for gold the U. S. should insist upon payment of France's debt to America.

What Killed UNCLE

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Was it the supremely diabolical plot by the agency of evil, Thrush? Or was it merely anemia of the ratings that killed "The Man from Uncle"?

Robert Vaughn, who has been thwarting Thrush for 3½ years in the title role of the MGM-NBC television series, suspects the ratings were the real culprit. Whatever the cause, "UNCLE" makes an ignominious midseason departure from the network in January. The series will shortly be popping up on local stations via syndication.

It was fun while it lasted, Vaughn as Napoleon Solo and British actor David McCallum as Illya Kuryakin became the television equivalents of matinee idols and were mobbed on personal appearances. They made many such tours in the first season, and their efforts played a big role in assuring a renewal for the series, which took time to build its audience.

Teenagers and colleagues provided the core of "UNCLE's" popularity. Some were fooled by the phony tag at the end of the show acknowledging the cooperation of the "United Command for Law and Enforcement." The United Nations headquarters in New York was flooded with inquiries about the organization.

Commenting on the show's closing, Vaughn opined: "I think the fad dissipated itself, just as all fads must. The movie market was inundated with spy satires of the 'Our Man Flint' type. Television had its own cycle of satires with 'Get Smart,' 'Wild Wild West' and others."

Vaughn agreed that the switch of time periods from Friday to Monday did not help his show's chances—"Our audience wasn't able to find us."

His personal reaction to "UNCLE's" end: "I'm glad it's over, but I'm sorry for those who were put out of work because of it. As for myself, I profited career-wise, money-wise and otherwise because of the show. I have now put in almost five years in television—I did 'The Lieutenant' for a year before 'UNCLE'—and that's enough."

"Now I want to do feature films. I can work half the time for twice the money that I earned in television. If I made two pictures a year, I would have six months left for my other activities."

CHAPTER ONE
SANTA AND
THE PIGWIDGEN

MANY YEARS AGO there lived a man who had an extraordinary love for children.

He was always giving them little gifts — especially at Christmastime. He was so good and kind a man he was made the patron saint of children. He is called Saint Nicholas or Santa Claus for short and he is the spirit of all our Christmases.

No one knows how it came about that today Santa Claus lives at the North Pole and has flying reindeer and is able to bring toys to children all over the world. No one knows but many stories are told, and here is one of the most interesting.

Claus, as he was then called, lived in a village on a mountainside in a far-away land. He and his wife had no little ones of their own but their house was always filled with boys and girls.

Claus liked it that way. He told stories. He made up songs. He kept the cookie jar filled. He carved tiny wooden toys and gave them to the children. He scarcely had time to do his real work which was to make shelves and chairs and beds to sell to the villagers.

People could not understand how Claus could spend so much time playing with the children. He never seemed to worry about making a living.

Then one day some boys playing in Claus' attic found a fat black purse. The purse clinked when the boys shook it. They went home and told their parents that Claus had a treasure of gold in his attic.

Now gold had never been seen in that far-away place and everyone was amazed. All the villagers, men, women and children, went to Claus' house and told him what they had heard. They asked if they could see the treasure and merely feel the gold with their fingers. "I have no gold!" exclaimed Claus.

"But the purse" urged a villager. "Can't we even SEE the purse?"

Claus went to the attic and came back with the black leather purse. The sides bulged and the contents truly jingled like gold.

"If it's not gold, what is it?" asked an old man eagerly.

Mr. and Mrs. Claus loved children.

"I do not know," said Claus. "Many years ago a traveler stayed the night in my father's house. He left the purse and said he would return for it some day. He made my father promise never to open it. My father kept his promise. When he died he made me promise the same thing and the purse has been forgotten all these years."

"Open it!" cried the villagers. "Surely such a promise was not meant to stand forever!"

"For me it was," said Claus. "Tomorrow: The Curse"

The village elder spoke up slyly and said, "But Claus, WE didn't make any such promise. Surely I can open the purse just for one little peek."

"Yes, why not?" cried everyone, moving closer. "Yes, yes," chorused the children. "Just a peek!" And suddenly the elder leaned over the purse and opened the clasp.

Reiner's Stab at Broadway Proves Out 'Schizofrantic'

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic
NEW YORK (AP)—In his first Broadway foray as a writer-director, TV's Carl Reiner hasn't really come up with "Something Different" in the caper of that title which premiered Tuesday night at the Cort theater.

What he has provided are a few scenes of demented hilarity spaced out by labored plotting and panting player activity. Schizofrantic, you could say. The story is something of an in-joke about the difficulties an author can have coming up with a second hit after freshman bonanza a dozen years previous.

Eisenhowers Donate Farm As U.S. Shrine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife have donated their farm and house at Gettysburg, Pa., to the United States as a national historic site, the White House announced Wednesday.

The Eisenhowers will continue to occupy their home and use the farm facilities during Gen. Eisenhower's lifetime, but arrangements will be made for authorizing future development of visitors' facilities there for tourists.

Formal transfer of the property to the United States occurred Monday afternoon in a simple ceremony at Gettysburg in which the Eisenhowers and Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall took part.

The Eisenhower farm, including 230 acres, adjoins the Gettysburg National Military Park, site of the famous Civil War battle. It was acquired by the Eisenhowers in 1950.

Choir Launches 10-Day Tour

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—The "Beacon of Hope Choir" from the state penitentiary has launched a 10-day tour of Kansas.

The choir is made up of 24 prisoners in a program called "Operation Crime Arrest." Two inmates spoke on the evils of crime in the first concert in Manhattan. Most of the choir selections were spirituals.

Having recreated the tenebrous kitchen of his Yiddish mother the script persistently stresses that ethnic note in gags, with often deplorable results, the scribe decides to hire someone to behave as she did too.

Well, that's the whole plot. But to eke out the fray there's an assortment of distractions such as a pest control expert who woos the wife and a pair of twin boys, one Negro and one white.

Actually, not much happens until three candidates for substitute mother turn up along in the second act, unless you're ready to fall out of your seat over gags about "facsimilizing" that's what the cast really says and such trifles as:

"Why do you want to understand me? So I can understand you."

Bob Dishy, who can make his eyes seem to pop six inches out of his head, enacts the baffled writer, zealously. His main companions are Linda Lavin, the spouse; and Gabriel Dell, the insect-man with a flair for philosophy.

Among the mothers-for-hire Claudia McNeil contributes a standout scene of droll hilarity. Maureen Arthur capers cutely with some teeny-bopper impersonations out of Shakespeare. Helena Carroll appears to be waiting for someone to give her something to say or do.

The setting, by Will Steven Armstrong, creates an atmosphere that one character aptly described as "English Tudor slum." It's a lot more believable that what goes on in it.

Woman Acquitted In Phone Case

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A jury of six men and six women acquitted a 41-year-old Coitsville woman Wednesday in Campbell Municipal Court of charges she made hundreds of harassing telephone calls to her estranged husband.

Mrs. Irene Sedlacko was accused of making some 1,200 harassing calls to Army Maj. Cyril Sedlacko dating back to 1963. They have been separated since 1965. He is commander of the Ohio National Guard Armory here.

Deputies Cleared

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three Franklin County sheriff's deputies have been cleared of charges they assaulted two county jail inmates last Saturday. Sheriff Stacy Hall said Wednesday. The accusations were made by the inmates.

OHIO CASH GRAIN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Dept. of Agri. cash grain prices: No 2 red wheat unchanged to 1 higher 1.27-1.33, mostly 1 higher 1.27-1.33, mostly 1 higher 91-97 per bu, mostly 92-95; No 2 oats unchanged 70-80, mostly 70-74; No 1 soybeans unchanged 2.41-2.49, mostly 2.41-2.45.

Special Strike Fund Assessed

CLEVELAND (AP)—For 5,500 members of the Amalgamated Meat cutters Union in Northeast Ohio a $1-a-month strike fund assessment during the next four months will be paid for district Union 427 funds, not deducted from members' paychecks.

The assessments will provide $20-a-week benefits for 11,000 striking butchers in Los Angeles and 7,000 in Boston, along with smaller groups of strikers.

The four assessments of 400,000 meat cutters union members, including 18,000 in Ohio, are needed to offset a $1.4 million monthly drain on the union defense fund, according to union leaders.

McCarthy Seen as Both Hero and Villain

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — It looked as if the campus intellectual had descended from the ivory tower to find himself star of the pep rally.

In the center of a crowd of sign-waving students stood a handsome middle-aged man whose gray hair was neatly trimmed and whose tall frame wore a conservatively dark suit and vest.

The man: Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, 51, Democrat and senior senator from Minnesota, dissenter on Vietnam, challenger of President Johnson and overnight hero of legions of war protesters.

And the students brandished their hand-lettered signs reading, "Young America Counts on Sen. McCarthy," "Draft McCarthy: Dump Johnson," "Run, Baby, Run" during a recent campus visit by the Minnesota.

In the sound and fury over his challenge of the President's Vietnam policy, McCarthy has been portrayed as hero and villain.

Critics have accused him of everything from bitterness and gross party disloyalty to seeking publicity to better the sales of his book, "The Limits of Power," and to increase the fees for his lecture tours.

Friends and supporters see him risking his political neck to force a referendum by primary on the war and of providing a rallying point for dissenters—the kind of dissenters who, as one fan put it, "don't wear beards, who do take baths and who don't write four-letter words on walls."

McCarthy—who, one writer observed, could "kid his way through the judgment gates"—is not the most likely figure to be at the center of such a fuss.

He has been variously labeled as brilliant but detached, moral but cynical, philosophic but bored. He is a Roman Catholic, a former professor and an intellectual. He does not assault windmills.

Where most politicians prefer the heavy, easily understood strokes of a broadsword in verbal combat, McCarthy uses the rapier tipped with irony.

Although McCarthy serves on three of the Senate's most prestigious committees—Foreign Relations, Finance and Ethics—he is not a member of the Senate's inner circle of power. Despite his 19 years in the House and Senate, many colleagues consider him a loner. He does not fit into handy patterns.

In other days, President Johnson said of his fellow Democrat: "Gene McCarthy is the kind of man, as we say in the ranch country of Texas, who will go to the well with you. That's a homely way of saying you can count on him in dark days or bright ones."

Some feel the LBJ Ranch well water turned bitter in 1964 when the President left McCarthy hoping he would choose him as his running mate—then tapped McCarthy's fellow Minnesotan, Hubert H. Humphrey.

McCarthy's Vietnam dissent was not a flip-flop. In January 1966 he was one of 17 Senate Democrats who urged Johnson to prolong the bombing lull.

But his dissent appeared to escalate after an August hearing by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. There Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach insisted President Johnson had authority to do what has been done in Vietnam even without the controversial Gulf of Tonkin resolution.

McCarthy left the hearing and said to a reporter he met in the hall:

"This is the wildest testimony I ever heard. There is no limit to what he says the President can do. There is only one thing to do—take it to the country."

The implications are wide, not only for President Johnson, but in the divided party ranks in McCarthy's and Humphrey's Minnesota.

As McCarthy's dissent became more vocal last month

Humphrey, one of the administration's chief apologists, reportedly had a talk with him about it. Humphrey is said to have asked:

"Are we talking as friends, Gene, or are we still friends?"

Still friends, McCarthy reportedly replied.

McCarthy's intimates say there is more than a war between Johnson and the man who once would go to the well with him.

For a long time, they say, McCarthy has complained in private conversation that Johnson has tampered with American institutions: hobbling the Senate and packing the Foreign Relations Committee when he was majority leader; weakening the Democratic National Committee; lowering the prestige of the Supreme Court by giving its members outside assignments.

But the focus of McCarthy's dissent is Vietnam.

If he decides to enter the primaries—and many observers feel he has gone too far to back out—he says his aim would be to give voters an opportunity to exert enough pressure to cause Johnson to change his course.

Fiendish Uncle Not So Funny

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl with a big problem. Please don't laugh, Abby, but my problem is that I am ticklish. And I mean like if someone just tickles me a little bit, I practically go into hysterics.

Of course nearly everyone who knows me knows about how ticklish I am, but my uncle in particular takes advantage of this, and he will get a hold of me and tickle me until I am so played out from laughing and screaming that I always end up crying.

My parents aren't much help, Abby, and I can't handle this alone. Please tell me what to do.

TICKLISH Being ticklish is no laughing matter, and I sympathize with you. Your uncle sounds like a first class nincompoop, who's probably sadistic to boot. When you see him next, give him fair warning that if he so much as puts a hand on you, you will clout him with a lamp, or whatever is handy. Then go ahead and do it. No jury would convict you.

DEAR ABBY: I am 38, have four practically grown children and I have a problem, the likes of which you've never heard. I guarantee you.

Six months ago I married a 47-year-old man also divorced with three children. I had been a divorcee for six years. My husband assured me I had nothing to worry about because he had had an operation nine years before that made it IMPOSSIBLE for him to father any more children. Naturally I took his word for it. Well something went wrong because I am four months pregnant. My doctor confirmed it. I am just furious, Abby. My husband went back to the doctor who performed that operation on him, and the doctor said that the operation is 100 per cent foolproof, there are no failures, and if I am pregnant, the baby can't be my husband's. Abby, I KNOW the baby can't be anybody else's.

Tell me, are those operations on men always successful? If so, how come I am PG? Can a blood test prove that my husband is the father of my baby? If he is, can my husband sue his doctor?

PG AT 38 DEAR PG: The operation your husband had is called a "vasectomy." If properly performed, it IS 100 per cent foolproof, but unfortunately it is not always properly performed. If your husband IS indeed your baby's father (and I believe you when you say he is) then he should go to a urologist for a "sperm test." This will show beyond a doubt whether he is able to produce children or not. A blood test can be taken only after the baby is born, and can determine only who the baby's father is not... NOT who he is. Your husband CAN sue his doctor. Whether he can collect is another question.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Fiendish Uncle Not So Funny

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl with a big problem. Please don't laugh, Abby, but my problem is that I am ticklish. And I mean like if someone just tickles me a little bit, I practically go into hysterics.

Of course nearly everyone who knows me knows about how ticklish I am, but my uncle in particular takes advantage of this, and he will get a hold of me and tickle me until I am so played out from laughing and screaming that I always end up crying.

My parents aren't much help, Abby, and I can't handle this alone. Please tell me what to do.

TICKLISH DEAR TICKLISH: Being ticklish is no laughing matter, and I sympathize with you. Your uncle sounds like a first class nincompoop, who's probably sadistic to boot. When you see him next, give him fair warning that if he so much as puts a hand on you, you will cuss him with a lamp, or whatever is handy. Then go ahead and do it. No jury would convict you.

My husband assured me I had nothing to worry about because he had had an operation nine years before that made it IMPOSSIBLE for him to father any more children. Naturally I took his word for it. NOT who he is. Your husband CAN sue his doctor. Whether he can collect is another question.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a pilot for a big air line, and on layovers in different cities the stewardesses frequently go out with the fellows, and on occasion they go to dinner, movies or sightseeing. My husband says this is the accepted thing.

I am consumed by jealousy and tied up in knots just thinking about it. I need advice on how to handle the situation so I don't question him too much and get into fights with him when he comes home. I don't have any reason to doubt my husband but I can't rid myself of the jealous feelings I have. I love him very much, and am so afraid of what might happen as a result of the pretty new young faces that surround him. Can you help me?

JEALOUS DEAR JEALOUS: Jealousy is a "sickness." The twin germs which usually cause it are lack of self-confidence and mistrust. Don't quiz him, but let him know (good humoredly) that you think he is quite a prize and are slightly jealous. (This will be his cue to reassure you, as anyone with sense enough to fly a plane must surely know.) Frankly, I don't think you have anything to worry about. The husband who swings away from home avoids mentioning other girls.

Mass Poisoning Possible in U.S.

By HAL GULLIVER
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A U.S. pesticide expert says it is a miracle that mass poisoning by an insecticide, similar to the poisoning of scores of persons in Colombia last week, has not occurred in this country.

"It could happen," says Dr. Samuel W. Simmons, chief of the U.S. Public Health Service's pesticides program at the Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta.

At least 76 men, women, and children in Chiquinquirá, Colombia died last weekend after eating bread poisoned with a deadly insecticide whose effects are similar to nerve gas.

Another 86 Colombians are reported in critical condition despite antidotes rushed to Colombia from the United States.

More than 50 state and local health officials are meeting with Simmons in a conference on the investigation of chemical poisonings such as those in Colombia.

Commenting on the possibility of similar deaths in the United States, Simmons said in an interview there is little real regulation of the purchase of the transportation of pesticides.

"Take the loading of pesticides aboard ship, for instance. Ships are supposed never to load food with pesticides or poison. But the list of poisons is not kept up to date. A pesticide not on the list simply isn't considered poison," he said.

The recent deaths in Colombia, as well as poisonings in Mexico, Arcadia, Fla. and St. Louis, Mo., show the need for training state and local health officials in modern techniques of investigating chemical poisonings Simmons said.

More than 400 persons are now employed by the U.S. Public Health Service in the pesticides program based in Atlanta.

In addition to developing the capability to orbit nuclear bombs, the Washington Democrat said the Soviets are planning expansion of their antiballistic missile system.

Adding that Communist China is emerging as a nuclear power, Jackson said:

"This recent developments constitute a serious challenge to the strategic superiority of U.S. power on which our defense planners have counted to maintain political stability and to keep the peace."

Jackson aired his views in a prepared Senate speech.

Chief Logan FB Council Holds Meet

The November meeting of the Chief Logan Farm Bureau Council was held recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Gifford, Route 1.

Mrs. Marvin Rittinger, women's representative, announced the women's committee annual Christmas luncheon will be held noon Monday at Wardell's Party Home, Williamsport. Mrs. Ralph Fisher of Ashville will tell of her recent European tour.

The Chief Logan Council will go to Wardell's Party Home Dec. 13. The group will exchange gifts.

Topic for the meeting was the "importance of agriculture in our total economy."

Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. David Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin A. Rittinger, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wright, Mr. and Mrs. David Evans, Mr. and Mrs. John Strawser, Mr. and Mrs. John Wardell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peck and Ralph Dunkle.

Students Save Their College

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Southern College students have waged a successful 29-day campaign and raised $1.18 million in pledges and cash to head off a proposed merger with the University of Louisville.

Wednesday, KSC's board of trustees reconsidered the proposed merger, which was planned because of a $4.5 million debt, and voted 18-1 for independence.

The students who last week had asked for a tuition raise if it would help matters indicate they're happy they'll be charged $200 more per trimester next month if it means saving their school.

Censorship Hit At University

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — It was censorship, says the student newspaper, when the University of Oregon athletic department delayed a special homecoming edition.

The edition was to be passed out at the Oregon-Oregon State game Nov. 18, but it was confiscated and held about an hour.

The paper's banner headline read: "Abolish Homecoming" and an editorial suggested that the university do just that.

Arab Group Shells City

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab terrorists fired nine mortar shells and wounded a child late Wednesday night in Petah Tikva, a residential suburb only 6 miles from the heart of Tel Aviv.

The attack was the closest to Israel's largest city reported since the June war. Security forces went after the raiders and set up roadblocks.

It was the second mortar shelling of the Tel Aviv area this month. Half a dozen shells burst Nov. 9 on the outskirts of Kfar Sava, seven miles to the north.

Both raids were blamed on El Fatah, the Syrian-backed terrorist organization.

At U.N. headquarters, meanwhile, sources in a position to know said they expect the new U.N. special representative to the Middle East, Gunnar Jarling, to delay his peace mission until after the Arab summit conference scheduled to start Dec. 9 in Rabat, Morocco.

They said U.N. officials advised a delay because the meeting is supposed to establish a joint Arab position toward Jarling's mission seeking settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Harsha Backs Anti-LSD Legislation

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Ohio Congressman William H. Harsha said today that he would give "vigorous support" to legislation introduced by 25 Republican and Democrat lawmakers making use of LSD and similar drugs a Federal Crime.

His statement followed reports by University of Iowa physicians confirming LSD damage to an unborn child. "We have for some time known that these drugs caused changes in human chromosomes," said Harsha, "but we now know that babies are deformed when these drugs are used by parents."

"There's too much heartache in the world already. We surely do not need the added tragedy of needlessly deformed children," he said.

The proposed legislation would establish fines up to $1,000 and jail terms of up to one year for persons possessing or using the hallucinogenic drugs. Subsequent offenses would bring fines up to $10,000 and three years in jail.

Mass Poisoning Possible in U.S.

By HAL GULLIVER
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A U.S. pesticide expert says it is a miracle that mass poisoning by an insecticide, similar to the poisoning of scores of persons in Colombia last week, has not occurred in this country.

Solon Says Red Atom Power Rises

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson today termed recent Soviet nuclear developments a "serious challenge" to the missile superiority he said the United States counts on to maintain world peace.

Jackman, chairman of Senate Armed Services and Atomic Energy subcommittee, said the Soviets have nearly doubled their operational intercontinental ballistic missiles and are providing them with warheads larger than the United States can launch.

In addition to developing the capability to orbit nuclear bombs, the Washington Democrat said the Soviets are planning expansion of their antiballistic missile system.

Adding that Communist China is emerging as a nuclear power, Jackson said:

"This recent developments constitute a serious challenge to the strategic superiority of U.S. power on which our defense planners have counted to maintain political stability and to keep the peace."

Jackman aired his views in a prepared Senate speech.

Chief Logan FB Council Holds Meet

The November meeting of the Chief Logan Farm Bureau Council was held recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Gifford, Route 1.

Mrs. Marvin Rittinger, women's representative, announced the women's committee annual Christmas luncheon will be held noon Monday at Wardell's Party Home, Williamsport. Mrs. Ralph Fisher of Ashville will tell of her recent European tour.

The Chief Logan Council will go to Wardell's Party Home Dec. 13. The group will exchange gifts.

Topic for the meeting was the "importance of agriculture in our total economy."

Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. David Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin A. Rittinger, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wright, Mr. and Mrs. David Evans, Mr. and Mrs. John Strawser, Mr. and Mrs. John Wardell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peck and Ralph Dunkle.

the U.S. Public Health Service's pesticides program at the Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta.

At least 76 men, women, and children in Chiquinquirá, Colombia died last weekend after eating bread poisoned with a deadly insecticide whose effects are similar to nerve gas.

Another 86 Colombians are reported in critical condition despite antidotes rushed to Colombia from the United States.

More than 50 state and local health officials are meeting with Simmons in a conference on the investigation of chemical poisonings such as those in Colombia.

Commenting on the possibility of similar deaths in the United States, Simmons said in an interview there is little real regulation of the purchase of the transportation of pesticides.

"Take the loading of pesticides aboard ship, for instance. Ships are supposed never to load food with pesticides or poison. But the list of poisons is not kept up to date. A pesticide not on the list simply isn't considered poison," he said.

The recent deaths in Colombia, as well as poisonings in Mexico, Arcadia, Fla. and St. Louis, Mo., show the need for training state and local health officials in modern techniques of investigating chemical poisonings Simmons said.

More than 400 persons are now employed by the U.S. Public Health Service in the pesticides program based in Atlanta.

Students Save Their College

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Southern College students have waged a successful 29-day campaign and raised $1.18 million in pledges and cash to head off a proposed merger with the University of Louisville.

Wednesday, KSC's board of trustees reconsidered the proposed merger, which was planned because of a $4.5 million debt, and voted 18-1 for independence.

The students who last week had asked for a tuition raise if it would help matters indicate they're happy they'll be charged $200 more per trimester next month if it means saving their school.

Censorship Hit At University

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — It was censorship, says the student newspaper, when the University of Oregon athletic department delayed a special homecoming edition.

The edition was to be passed out at the Oregon-Oregon State game Nov. 18, but it was confiscated and held about an hour.

The paper's banner headline read: "Abolish Homecoming" and an editorial suggested that the university do just that.

Arab Group Shells City

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab terrorists fired nine mortar shells and wounded a child late Wednesday night in Petah Tikva, a residential suburb only 6 miles from the heart of Tel Aviv.

The attack was the closest to Israel's largest city reported since the June war. Security forces went after the raiders and set up roadblocks.

Tigers Hosts Wilmington As SCO Cage Race Starts

The South Central Ohio League wars get under way Friday, with Circleville hosting Wilmington, Washington C. H. traveling to Greenfield McClain and Miami Trace playing at Hillsboro. Saturday Circle hosts Grandview.

The Tiger cagers will have the underdog role in Friday's game. Wilmington was tabbed by SCO cage observers as a "dark horse" contender for the league title.

The key to Wilmington's offense is 6-4 center John Petty. Petty, a senior, scored 32 points in the Hurricane's first game last Saturday against Xenia.

A two year letterman, he has seen action at guard and forward as well as center on the Wilmington cage team.

FRED Summers is coach of the Hurricane, taking over from Al Burger who moved to New Mexico.

Under Burger, the Wilmington cage squads were noted for their tenacious defense, and their controlled offense. The Hurricane cagers are expected to maintain their pressing man to man defensive tactics this year, but may speed up their offense.

Besides Petty, other returning lettermen are Rick Kneisel, a 5-11 forward, and Dan Burrell, a 5-11 guard.

Other candidates for the squad are Gordon Rulon, a 5-11 senior; Chuck Buster, a 5-10 junior; Dan Collins, a 5-11 junior; Kim Ewing, a 6-3 junior; Gary Garman, a 6-3 junior; Karl Rosenberg, a 6-1 junior; Dave Sprague, a 6-2 senior.

76ers Lag Behind Celts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Is there anything wrong with the Philadelphia 76ers, champions of the National Basketball Association?

A year ago at this time they were rolling merrily along at a 19-2 clip. Today they are 15-7 and second to the Boston Celtics in the Eastern Division.

"I don't know what the answer is," said Coach Alex Hannum after the 76ers had taken a 113-95 whipping from the San Francisco Warriors at the Philadelphia Spectrum Wednesday night.

And big 7-foot-1 Wilt Chamberlain, who scored only 12 points, nine in the last five minutes, asserted, "There's nothing wrong with me."

It was the seventh straight victory for San Francisco and moved the Warriors within one-half game of the first-place St. Louis Hawks in the Western Division.

New York scored a 119-99 road victory over Cincinnati and Detroit, playing at home, defeated Los Angeles 127-123 in the other scheduled NBA games.

After two opening losses, Circleville Coach Chuck Hill is planning a shift in the lineup for Friday's tilt. Sophomores

Americans Top Amigos 106-101

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

John Austin used to score many key points for Boston College in his undergraduate days.

Now a pro, he did the same for the New Jersey Americans in the American Basketball Association Wednesday night to cement a 106-101 victory over the Anaheim Amigos at Teaneck, N.J.

Austin, who had been taken out earlier, came off the bench and scored the last seven points to climax a second-half rally that ended a three-game losing streak for the Americans.

Anaheim held a 16-point lead at 64-48 before the Americans' rally started. Dan Anderson's tie-in put New Jersey ahead for good at 93-92 and Austin's seven consecutive points sewed it up.

Tony Jackson was high scorer for New Jersey with 31 points. Steve Chubin topped the Amigos with 30.

The Houston Mavericks chalked up their fourth straight home victory by beating the Oakland Oaks 102-91. The Kentucky Colonels also won at home, exploding for 42 points in the last quarter to whip the Dallas Chaparrals 111-85 at Louisville in the other ABA game scheduled.

Ashville and Jackson emerged as the two lone undefeated teams in the Pickaway County Junior High Basketball league after Wednesday's round of action.

Other wins were recorded by Saltcreek and Pickaway.

The Broncos maintained their undefeated rating by stopping Walnut, 38-24, with Joe Lombardo tossing in 10 points. Charles Worthington and Randy Nungesser scored eight each for the winners.

Pont Tells Of Indiana Recruiting

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — John Pont, who transformed Indiana's football train from a deadend trolley into a Rose Bowl-bound express, said he attracted his crop of hotshot sophomores with a "don't fool them" recruiting pitch.

"We laid our offer on the line," Pont said. "As far as Indiana University was concerned, we told them the school had not been successful. But we said 'if you come here you will be on a team which will accomplish a first—one that will win.'"

The Hoosiers rose from a record of 3-16-1 the previous two seasons to a 9-1 record and a No. 4 ranking in the final Associated Press national poll of the season.

Indiana, which won its only Big Ten title in 1945 before the Rose Bowl pact with the West Coast teams was made, had its last winning season in 1958. Before Pont arrived in 1965, the record of the four preceding coaches was 42-108-3.

Negro Female Athlete Not Part of Olympic Boycott

CHICAGO (AP) — Willye White, feminine Negro star aiming at her fourth Olympic Games, suggested Wednesday proponents of a boycott of the 1968 Mexico City Olympics by Negro athletes are on the wrong track.

"Boycotting the Olympics is boycotting the nations of the world in a great display of equality and friendship," Miss White, 27, a world class long jumper since the 1956 Melbourne Olympics, told The Associated Press.

"I can suggest specific issues and more specific methods of protest in behalf of Negro status than this boycott proposal which seems to be centered around San Jose, Calif."

"The question could be brought up why don't we have

Negroes on our Olympic swimming, gymnastics and many other Olympic units beyond track, basketball and boxing.

"This is something that could be protested directly to the U.S. Olympic Committee, and nothing so vague as an Olympic boycott against a body of nations."

Miss White, a shapely practical nurse and an inoculating technician for the Chicago Board of Health, said her only knowledge of the West Coast boycott movement came from reading newspapers.

"I'm sure if it were bigger and more widespread, other people would know more about it," said Willye, who wears her red hair cropped short.

The South Central Ohio League wars get under way Friday, with Circleville hosting Wilmington, Washington C. H. traveling to Greenfield McClain and Miami Trace playing at Hillsboro. Saturday Circleville hosts Grandview.

The Tiger cagers will have the underdog role in Friday's game. Wilmington was tabbed by SCO cage observers as a "dark horse" contender for the league title.

The key to Wilmington's offense is 6-4 center John Petty. Petty, a senior, scored 32 points in the Hurricane's first game last Saturday against Xenia.

A two year letterman, he has seen action at guard and forward as well as center on the Wilmington cage team.

FRED Summers is coach of the Hurricane, taking over from Al Burger who moved to New Mexico.

Under Burger, the Wilmington cage squads were noted for their tenacious defense, and their controlled offense. The Hurricane cagers are expected to maintain their pressing man to man defensive tactics this year, but may speed up their offense.

Besides Petty, other returning lettermen are Rick Kneisel, a 5-11 forward, and Dan Burrill, a 5-11 guard.

Other candidates for the squad are Gordon Rulon, a 5-11 senior; Chuck Buster, a 5-10 junior; Dan Collins, a 5-11 junior; Kim Ewing, a 6-5 junior; Gary Garman, a 6-3 junior; Karl Rosenberg, a 6-1 junior; Dave Sprague, a 6-2 senior.

76ers Lag Behind Celts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Is there anything wrong with the Philadelphia 76ers, champions of the National Basketball Association?

A year ago at this time they were rolling merrily along at a 19-2 clip. Today they are 15-7 and second to the Boston Celtics in the Eastern Division.

"I don't know what the answer is," said Coach Alex Hannum after the 76ers had taken a 113-95 whipping from the San Francisco Warriors at the Philadelphia Spectrum Wednesday night.

And big 7-foot-1 Wilt Chamberlain, who scored only 12 points, nine in the last five minutes, asserted, "There's nothing wrong with me."

It was the seventh straight victory for San Francisco and moved the Warriors within one-half game of the first-place St. Louis Hawks in the Western Division.

New York scored a 119-99 road victory over Cincinnati and Detroit, playing at home, defeated Los Angeles 127-123 in the other scheduled NBA games.

Ashville, Jackson Still Unbeaten in County League

Ashville and Jackson emerged as the two lone undefeated teams in the Pickaway County Junior High Basketball league after Wednesday's round of action.

Other wins were recorded by Saltercreek and Pickaway.

The Broncos maintained their undefeated rating by stopping Walnut, 38-24, with Joe Lombardo tossing in 10 points. Charles Worthington and Randy Nungesser scored eight each for the winners.

Jack Brinker notched 14 for the losing Walnut Tigers. Ashville led 10-8 at the end of the first period, 23-9 at halftime and 34-18 as the final period began.

Pont Tells Of Indiana Recruiting

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — John Pont, who transformed Indiana's football team from a dead-end trolley into a Rose Bowl-bound express, said he attracted his crop of hotshot sophomores with a "don't fool them" recruiting pitch.

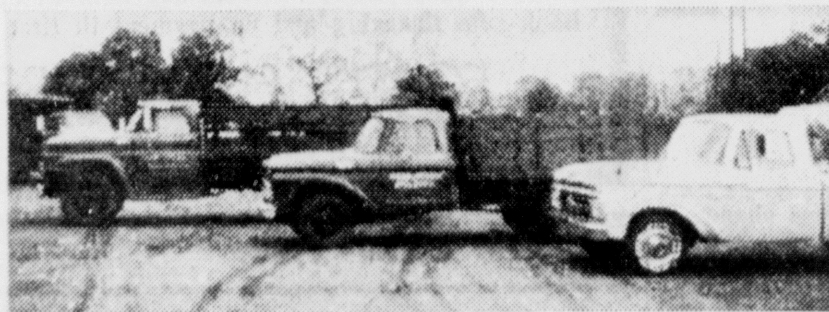

"We laid our offer on the line," Pont said. "As far as Indiana University was concerned, we told them the school had not been successful. But we said 'if you come here you will be on a team which will accomplish a first—one that will win.'"

The Hoosiers rose from a record of 3-16-1 the previous two seasons to a 9-1 record and a No. 4 ranking in the final Associated Press national poll of the season.

Indiana, which won its only Big Ten title in 1945 before the Rose Bowl pact with the West Coast teams was made, had its last winning season in 1958. Before Pont arrived in 1965, the record of the four preceding coaches was 42-108-3.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's horse racing season may virtually start and finish in winter weather next year if the Ohio Racing Commission approves racing dates requested by Toledo's Raceway Park.

Negro Female Athlete Not Part of Olympic Boycott

CHICAGO (AP) — Willye White, feminine Negro star aiming at her fourth Olympic Games, suggested Wednesday proponents of a boycott of the 1968 Mexico City Olympics by Negro athletes are on the wrong track.

"Boycotting the Olympics is boycotting the nations of the world in a great display of equality and friendship," Miss White, 27, a world class long jumper since the 1956 Melbourne Olympics, told The Associated Press.

"I can suggest specific issues and more specific methods of protest in behalf of Negro status than this boycott proposal which seems to be centered around San Jose, Calif.

"The question could be brought up why don't we have Negroes on our Olympic swimming, gymnastics and many other Olympic units beyond track, basketball and boxing.

"This is something that could be protested directly to the U.S. Olympic Committee, and nothing so vague as an Olympic boycott against a body of nations."

Miss White, a shapely practical nurse and an inoculating technician for the Chicago Board of Health, said her only knowledge of the West Coast boycott movement came from reading newspapers.

"I'm sure if it were bigger and more widespread, other people would know more about it," said Willye, who wears her red hair cropped short.

Cleveland Policemen Hit by Suit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Former safety director John N. McCormick, ex-police chief Richard Wagner and two unnamed policemen were named in a $140,000 suit charging police brutality filed in U.S. District Court Wednesday by the Greater Cleveland Civil Liberties Union.
The suit was filed on behalf of Phillip G. Bradshaw, an epileptic who was arrested for alleged drunkenness last June. Bradshaw claimed the two policemen named in the suit—identified only as wearing badge numbers 469 and 174—refused to get him medical attention. He also charged that the officers beat him unconscious when he had a seizure at Central Police Station and handcuffed him to cell bars.
McCormick and Wagner were named in the suit for their alleged refusal to discipline the two officers. The petition claims they also refused to take any other action to discourage police from "violent conduct" toward the public.

2 Inducted Into Service

Two registrants of the Pickaway County Selective Service Board were inducted into the Armed Forces Tuesday.

At the same time, 15 local men reported for the Armed Forces physical examination at Ft. Hayes Induction Center, Columbus.

Those drafted were Joseph N. Stevenson, Stoutsville, and Roger J. Austin, Route 3, Mt. Sterling.

Volunteers of the local Red Cross Chapter with the assistance of the Sertoma Club served coffee and doughnuts and presented each registrant with a leatherette packet containing stationery, pen, stamps and Red Cross information.

2 Injured In Auto Mishap

Two people were injured and a local resident was cited for failure to yield in a traffic accident which occurred at the junction of 762 and Route 104 at 4:25 p.m. Wednesday.

Marvin E. Knapp, 25, and his passenger Claude Wilson, both of Bainbridge were injured when their south bound car was struck by an auto driven by Mrs. Ruth Beadle, 39, Ashville.

The car driven by Mrs. Beadle struck the Knapp car in the right side forcing it off the highway where it traveled 44 feet, struck a telephone pole, overturned and came to rest 16 feet from the pole.

Mrs. Beadle was cited by the Highway Patrol for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Biafra Completes 6 Months 'Free'

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
Associated Press Writer

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Biafra today completed its first six months of independence amid signs the next six months may be the hardest and last.

Nigeria's former Eastern region, which seceded in May after a year of tribal suspicion and murder, so far has survived the "swift, surgical operation" launched by Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, head of Nigeria's military government, in an effort to put Nigeria together again.

News from the area is scarce but there are few signs of cracking, despite the federal army thrust which has occupied a third of the 29,000 square miles of Africa's newest but still unrecognized republic.

Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, 33, the bearded Oxford history graduate who declared independence at 3 a.m. on May 30, still governs a going concern. Its major exports include Nigerian bank notes which the federal government claims are being offered at half price, 10 shillings ($1.40) to the pound. These pay for the major imports, weapons to fight the civil war which started July 6.

Although unrecognized, Biafra maintains a busy office in Lisbon, Portugal, from where it is believed planes loaded with military equipment fly to Biafra via the Portuguese island possession of Sao Tome off the African coast.

It has an advertising agency, Ruder and Finn, in Manhattan.

Slate Trial In Belpre Cash Shortage

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gaylord Storer and his wife, Betty, are awaiting trial in U.S. District Court here on charges in connection with the shortage of nearly a half million dollars from a Washington County bank.

Both were indicted here Wednesday by a federal grand jury. Mrs. Storer, 37, a former bookkeeper at the Peoples Bank and Trust Co. in Belpre, was named on 10 counts of misapplication of bank funds, one count of false entry into bank records and one count of conspiracy in misapplication of banking funds.

Storer was indicted on a charge of taking part in the conspiracy and later was arrested at the office of attorney Roger Jones in Athens. Storer waived a preliminary hearing and was bound over to federal court here.

No trial dates have been set. The Storers live in Guyssville, Athens County.

Mrs. Storer was arrested in September after a shortage of $427,053 was discovered. She had worked at the bank 19 years. She is accused of using the money to pay checks written by her husband for business expenses.

Helpful Man Proves a Rat

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—When an elderly New Mexico couple arrived at an El Paso hospital so the husband could receive treatment, a man they thought was an attendant told them their car was blocking the ambulance entrance.

The couple quoted the man as saying that if they would give him the keys he would move the vehicle for them. The couple did so and the man disappeared with their car, authorities said.

Biafra Completes 6 Months 'Free'

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
Associated Press Writer

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Biafra today completed its first six months of independence amid signs the next six months may be the hardest and last.

Nigeria's former Eastern region, which seceded in May after a year of tribal suspicion and murder, so far has survived the "swift, surgical operation" launched by Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, head of Nigeria's military government, in an effort to put Nigeria together again.

News from the area is scarce but there are few signs of cracking, despite the federal army thrust which has occupied a third of the 29,000 square miles of Africa's newest but still unrecognized republic.

Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, 33, the bearded Oxford history graduate who declared independence at 3 a. m. on May 30, still governs a going concern. Its major exports include Nigerian bank notes which the federal government claims are being offered at half price, 10 shillings ($1.40) to the pound. These pay for the major imports, weapons to fight the civil war which started July 6.

Although unrecognized, Biafra maintains a busy office in Lisbon, Portugal, from where it is believed planes loaded with military equipment fly to Biafra via the Portuguese island possession of Sao Tome off the African coast.

It has an advertising agency, Ruder and Finn, in Manhattan, as well as an agent in the United States. Its diplomats continue to move relatively freely through Great Britain and several East African countries.

The new country's most wearing enemy appears to be time. Surrounded by a federal sea and land blockade, it has only one link with the outside world—an airfield at Port Harcourt through which a trickle of fresh military equipment is channeled.

According to reports reaching Lagos, Biafra is slowly running out of material to fight a war.

Slate Trial In Belpre Cash Shortage

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gaylord Storer and his wife, Betty, are awaiting trial in U.S. District Court here on charges in connection with the shortage of nearly a half million dollars from a Washington County bank.

Both were indicted here Wednesday by a federal grand jury. Mrs. Storer, 37, a former bookkeeper at the Peoples Bank and Trust Co. in Belpre, was named on 10 counts of misapplication of bank funds, one count of false entry into bank records and one count of conspiracy in misapplication of banking funds.

Storer was indicted on a charge of taking part in the conspiracy and later was arrested at the office of attorney Roger Jones in Athens. Storer waived a preliminary hearing and was bound over to federal court here.

No trial dates have been set. The Storers live in Guyssville, Athens County.

Mrs. Storer was arrested in September after a shortage of $427,053 was discovered. She had worked at the bank 19 years. She is accused of using the money to pay checks written by her husband for business expenses.

Helpful Man Proves a Rat

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—When an elderly New Mexico couple arrived at an El Paso hospital so the husband could receive treatment, a man they thought was an attendant told them their car was blocking the ambulance entrance.

The couple quoted the man as saying that if they would give him the keys he would move the vehicle for them. The couple did so and the man disappeared with their car, authorities said.
